

Meet Our Furry Superstars!

We're absolutely thrilled to introduce the current reigning stars of our home: Romeo and Juliet! A wonderfully kind friend of Sri Arunodayam gifted us these two sweet-natured white Labradors, and honestly, they've completely stolen our hearts (and everyone else's!).

It's been nothing short of magical to witness the natural empathy that sparks between our children and these amazing animals. They just get each other, and it's doing a world of good for everyone involved! Romeo and Juliet have integrated into our daily lives, especially during playtime. Our children absolutely adore taking them for walks and are already familiar with their routines.

The best part? These gentle creatures are incredibly patient and sweet with the children, who are utterly smitten with them! They truly don't have to do much to shine like the stars they are!
